6d. How well does the programme/module, in your opinion, prepare graduates for employment or further study?
LPC electives remain an important preparation for practice in the city providing exposure to topics otherwise lacking from the prescribed professional body requirements. In the external visit meeting with students, the students do not always recognise the value of this broader approach and expressed the desire to simply be taught to the exam!

Areas of Good Practice

7a. Are there are particular features of student assessment that you would like to highlight as being innovative?
Given, comments in 6(d) above, the LPC electives remain important to providing a grounding in areas of law required by the city firms but perhaps the benefits need more flagging to the students.
7b. Are there are any particular areas of good practice in relation to standards and assessment processes that would be worthy of dissemination
